JIMI HENDRIX DISCOGRAPHY

updated: 29 Mar 2020
compiled by Douglas Bell

Introduction and Acknowledgments:
These listings were started in 1980 for my personal use, based primarily on the releases that I owned. In the intervening years, many important reference publications on Jimi's life and legacy have appeared. A few of those were drawn upon heavily as these lists evolved, and now they contain a great deal of information that does not represent my work, but rather the work of the authors of those publications.

This Discography and the companion Track List are distributed with the hope that they will be useful to some people in trying to sort through all the various official and unofficial releases that exist, and also all the privately circulating recordings that have not appeared on vinyl or factory-stamped CD. These documents are intended to be circulated freely and for free (not for profit) and not to be published in any other form. Users should feel free to modify them for their own private use, but I would ask that only the unmodified versions be circulated.

Full credit is given to publications that have contributed substantially to these lists, and users should realize how great those contributions were. The following publications are gratefully acknowledged:

Jimpress magazine - edited by Steve Rodham (periodical)
From the Benjamin Franklin Studios, 4th Edition - Gary Geldeart & Steve Rodham (Jimpress, 2019)
Plug Your Ears - Kees de Lange & Ben Valkhoff (Up from the Skies Unlimited, 1993)
Jimi Hendrix: Electric Gypsy - Harry Shapiro & Caesar Glebbeek (Heinemann, 1990)
UniVibes magazine - edited by Caesar Glebbeek (periodical)

I encourage all users to purchase these books and periodicals, as all contain material of great interest to those who appreciate Jimi's music. The following websites contain purchase and subscription information:

Jimpress: http://www.jimpress.co.uk
UniVibes: http://www.univibes.com/

In addition, many individuals have contributed information to these lists through private communications. This includes major contributions from Niko Bauer, David Chance, James Darby, Thomas Geneser, Hans-Peter Johnsen, Paul L'Anglais, Shinichi Sato, Ben van Eck, Emil Vukov; but many others have also added content.

Introduction

This list is divided into 7 parts:
1) Pre-Experience (singles and full-length releases) (P)
   A. The Isley Brothers
   B. Don Covay
   C. Rosa Lee Brooks
   D. Little Richard
   E. Frank Howard & The Commanders
   F. Curtis Knight and the Squires
   G. Jayne Mansfield
   H. Ray Sharpe, Owen Gray, Aretha Franklin, King Curtis, The Atlantic Sounds
   J. Lonnie Youngblood, The Icemen, Jimmy Norman, Billy LaMont
2) Experience releases (official full-length releases) (E)
3) Singles and EPs (official releases) (S)
4) Jimi as Guest Artist (official releases; does not include Pre-Experience tracks) (G)
5) Experience unofficial releases (bootlegs and pirates) (both singles and full-length releases) (U)
   CD-R bootlegs
6) Private CD-Rs and Tapes (T)
7) Videos and DVDs (official and major unreleased) (V)
At the start (after this introduction) is a summary of all releases included in this list.

This list includes all Jimi releases that I know of (except as noted below). Some of these I own, some I don't. I have included song timings (actual timings, not times listed on sleeves or CD index times) for the releases that I have.

Releases are numbered separately in each major section. This numbering is purely arbitrary, but provides a handle for quickly searching out a particular release. Generally, releases are arranged roughly chronologically (by recording date, not release date) in each section, although with studio releases this becomes problematic. Nonetheless, I find this scheme to be the most useful. Numbering uses a "P" prefix for Section 1, "E" for Section 2, "S" for Section 3, "G" for Section 4, "U" for Section 5, "T" for Section 6, and "V" for Section 7.

An exception to this ordering is Section 3 (Singles), where releases are ordered by release date. In Section 1, the sub-categories (by artist) are chronological, but within each sub-category the releases are listed by release date.

For those who are accustomed to the release numbering in the Jimpress books (see below), I apologize. However, I have added, directly beneath the title of each release, the Jimpress release number or numbers. Note that my numbers are to the left of the title, at the left margin. Please also note that all cross-referencing in the Track List uses my release numbers, not those of Jimpress. For releases appearing after the publication of From the Benjamin Franklin Studios, 4th edition, I use the release numbers from the regular issues of Jimpress.

For each release I also list, to the right of the Jimpress release number(s), the page number(s) from Jimi Hendrix: Electric Gypsy on which the release is described. These page numbers refer to the discography section in the U.S. 2nd edition (St. Martin's Press), found on pp. 524-665. For later releases, I give instead the UniVibes issue number (a 2-digit number). These entries start with issue 18 and end with the current issue.

So in summary, below most release titles in this discography will be found some numbers; numbers beginning with a letter are Jimpress release numbers, and numbers without letter prefixes are Jimpress issue numbers (57-current), Electric Gypsy page numbers (3-digit numeric) or UniVibes issue numbers (18-current). Within this grouping of numbers, Jimpress data is to the left and UniVibes data is to the right (when both exist; otherwise there is data only from one publication).

Dates are in U.S. format (mm/dd/yy).

Song titles are not always as given on packages. Bootlegs are notorious for inaccurate titles. I have tried to use consistent song titles, and in some cases where more than one title is generally accepted ("Beginnings" / "Jam Back at the House," for instance) I have picked one according to personal preference. Most however are given primary titles in agreement with Jimpress, to make comparison easier.

Following each song name is a number in ( ); these are Jimpress index numbers as given in From the Benjamin Franklin Studios, 4th edition and The Studio Log, both published by Jimpress. Later index numbers as given in the regular issues of Jimpress are also included.

Below the track listings for each release, there are recording details. For studio songs, that information is track-by-track. For live releases, there is often only a single description that applies to the entire release. Usually the track-by-track recording details start with the index numbers from Jimi Hendrix: Electric Gypsy by Shapiro and Glebbeek, continued in UniVibes by Glebbeek (where they exist). Studio recording information is according to the latest information we have; however, in many cases there is still some guesswork involved.

In citing information by Glebbeek and Jimpress, I use the abbreviations "G" and "J."

Section 2 does not generally include official compilation releases, except for a few cases where some material had its first release there. The same applies for "various artists" anthology releases. However, at the end of this section is an abbreviated listing of many of the compilation releases, and a few early anthology releases. This is far from a complete list, but I add more whenever I run across them.

Section 3 does not include pre-Experience singles (those are in Section 1), but does include a few various artists singles. I'm sure this isn't a complete listing of all singles and EPs, but I'm trying to make it so, and new entries get added all the time.
Section 4 covers releases by other artists on which Jimi appears as a guest performer. Obviously the largest group of such releases are those containing pre-Experience material, but they are not included here since they are covered separately in Section 1.

Section 5 (bootlegs and pirates) is as nearly complete as possible. I hope that I will eventually track down any omissions. Since new releases are continually appearing, there will always be some recent omissions.

At the end of the bootleg releases (Section 5) is a listing of bootleg CD-R releases. These should probably be grouped with tapes, but I give them their own sub-section. In principle they are distinguished from private CD-Rs in that they are mass-produced specifically for public sale, although I'm not sure all the listed titles fit this definition. I care little for bootleg CD-Rs, but they are listed for completeness.

Section 6 (Private CD-Rs and tapes) is a list of my own discs and tapes only. This is of less general use to others, but it is useful to me (after all, this list is primarily for my own reference). These include most of the material in circulation, but there will always be some omissions. This section includes material that I have on either tape or CD-R, except for those releases that are classified as bootlegs in the previous section.

Section 7 (videos) includes official releases and a couple of major unreleased videos. It's been awhile since this was updated completely, so it's not a comprehensive list. Also, I do not include the many short clips (both sound and silent) that exist. That is the subject of another list! See the publication by Jimpress dealing with visual material, Look over Yonder, or a more up-to-date version of this in From the Benjamin Franklin Studios, 4th Edition.

1. PRE-EXPERIENCE (singles and full-length releases)

Notes:

1) An instrumental track is denoted by (i)

2) G and J often reference tracks differently. G often gives a separate index number to a track that is mastered offspeed, or to a track that is more complete or less complete. J, on the other hand, is more thorough in describing different mixes, even when the differences are subtle.

   In combining the referencing information from both sources, the different ways of breaking down mixes and edits has resulted in more different combinations than with either source separately. At the start of each sub-category of this section, I give brief descriptions of each mix of each track, giving both G and J index numbers.

3) For many of the Pre-Experience tracks, recording information is sketchy or uncertain. This is particularly true of the Lonnie Youngblood material and the Curtis Knight material. A brief summary is given at the start of each subsection, but for much more complete coverage check out Niko Bauer's website:

A. THE ISLEY BROTHERS

Material has been released with Jimi on guitar from two studio dates, with Ronnie Isley, Kelly Isley, Rudy Isley (vo) and unknown (rest). Although some references claim that Jimi played at the September 1964 session, he was not with the Isleys during this time, so those tracks do not include Jimi.

Additional personnel on the 8/5/65 tracks: Al Lucas (b), James Brown or Bobby Gregg (d), Paul Griffin (p), and Jimmy Nottingham, Eddie Williams, Quentin Jackson, Dickie Harris, Seldon Powell, Haywood Henry (brass)

B. DON COVAY & THE GOODTIMERS

The following two tracks probably feature Hendrix on guitar, recorded in New York City in May 1964. The rest of the tracks that appeared on the "Mercy!" LP and the Rosemart singles were recorded between 1-5 October 1964 during which time Hendrix was on tour with the Isley Brothers.

Mercy, Mercy
Can't Stay Away

Both tracks are available in mono and stereo mixes.

There has been debate for years about whether Hendrix plays on the track "Mercy, Mercy." Although interviews with Covay and others seem to indicate that Jimi played on this track, the session logs don't list the guitarist on these two tracks.

E. FRANK HOWARD & THE COMMANDERS

One track was originally released on a single in 1965 which may include Jimi. The liner notes to OLD TOWN & BARRY SOUL STIRRERS (see the following listings) state that Jimi plays guitar on this track. When asked about it, Billy Cox (who was also in the band at that time) recently stated that Jimi did play guitar on this song. The rhythm “scratch” guitar could be Jimi, but it's not prominent in the mix so it's difficult to say with confidence.

Recorded in an unknown studio in mid-1965: Jimi perhaps plays guitar on one track, and possibly also on the second track:

F. CURTIS KNIGHT AND THE SQUIRES

These tracks were recorded at an unknown number of live venues and during two studio periods.

1. Live Recordings

The first live recordings of Jimi with Curtis Knight's band appeared in 1970. It's possible that full details on these recordings will never surface. Adding to the lack of information is deliberate misinformation in the form of overdubs and studio tracks masquerading as live recordings. It's unknown how many of these "live" tracks are dressed-up studio recordings, but lacking evidence to the contrary, they will be assumed to be live.

Two songs that originally appeared with crowd noise, Killing Floor (3,4,22) and Last Night (1,2), later showed up on official releases without any crowd sound at all. These appear on tape together without crowd noise or other overdubs, and with identical high-quality (relatively) stereo sound. It seems likely that they are studio recordings, perhaps done as a rehearsal to a live date. Or even after the live date: it's possible that a live album was being contemplated and the quality of the live recordings forced a change in plans. It's equally clear, however, that they are not studio recordings of the same quality as the many other studio recordings with Curtis Knight from 1965. At any rate, these two songs are grouped with the studio recordings, although identified as probable rehearsal takes.

Many of the live recordings have been associated for some time with a 26 December 1965 date at George's Club 20 in Hackensack, NJ, due both to liner notes and to information in the recordings themselves. Two tracks circulate in which Knight mentions George's Club 20 in his spoken intro: Killing Floor (3,4,22) and You Got What It Takes (1,2). The first of these is one of the previously mentioned studio tracks, so that can be discounted. Unfortunately, that is also the only track that gives the 26 Dec date, so we're back to square one with dating these recordings. The other does not mention a date. So all in all, evidence for that venue and dates is slim.

There's very little remaining evidence to date these tracks, to decide how many different venues are represented, or even to determine running order. Several groups of tracks can be connected but most can't, leaving us to go by things like stereo vs. mono, or the presence of brass on some tracks. Most likely all of these recordings are from the New York / New Jersey area in late 1965 or early 1966. Personnel includes Curtis Knight (rhythm g, lead vocals, harmony vocals, tambourine), Henry Henderson (bass), Marion Booker (drums), Ditto (organ, piano), and Lonnie Youngblood (sax, vocals)

Most of the first tracks to appear in 1970 sported studio overdubs, but later mixes often featured the original track relatively untouched. Unfortunately these overdubbed versions have continued to circulate and still appear on current releases.

We can identify 17 songs that exist or were originally recorded in stereo. Some of these stereo mixes were not released officially but only circulate on tape. One song (Sweet Little Angel) only circulates in mono or simulated stereo, but can be connected to Driving South, which does exist in stereo. So presumably Sweet Little Angel was also recorded in stereo. The true stereo tracks all seem to have vocals clearly to one side. The recorded repertoire consists almost completely of cover versions.

The remaining 24 tracks appear to have been originally recorded in mono, or are not available in stereo. Many of these appear with simulated stereo treatments, some of which are weak but others of which are strong and give quite a bit of headroom. These can often be mistaken for true stereo recordings. The stereo simulation was accomplished in various ways, but generally either by added reverb/echo to one channel or by differential EQ applied to the two channels. Some of these songs also appeared in mixes with studio overdubs, which were mixed in stereo on top of a mono-mixed original track.

2. Studio Recordings

The first LP with these recordings appeared in December 1967. Over the years countless releases have appeared with these tracks, and the bewildering assortment of mixes and edits is almost as countless.

In contrast to the live recordings, all of these studio recordings are Curtis Knight originals, and all vocals are by Knight. Personnel includes Curtis Knight (rhythm guitar, vocals), Marvin Held? (bass), Marion Booker? (drums), Ray Lucas (drums on some 7/67 material), ? (or, pi), Dick Glass, Jerry Simon, and unknown (mandolin)

The original Pre-Experience studio recordings with Curtis Knight took place in late 1965 to mid-1966 in Studio 76 (aka Dimensional Studios) in New York. Some of the later tracks were likely recorded at Allegro Sound Studios. Although more information on these sessions exists than for the live recordings, many details are still lacking. G says that all of these songs were recorded from October - December 1965 (two sessions over two days), but contracts for some of these sides date to June 1966. Although undoubtedly some of these tracks are from late 1965, others are later. On these tracks, Jimi plays guitar.

The different tracks are listed here. The first two songs are the (likely) rehearsal takes for one of the live shows and were originally presented as live recordings. The next 4 songs are demos that only came to light in 1996. Finally, there are the 13 songs that form the bulk of this material. U.F.O. was assumed for a long while to be from the 1967 sessions, since it's not Jimi on guitar and he was only known to have appeared on bass in the 1967 recordings. However, the emergence of the demo take of U.F.O., originating from 1965, suggests that both takes are from these earlier Pre-Experience sessions.

1965-1966 Studio Recordings

Killing Floor (rehearsal)
Last Night (rehearsal)
Better Times Ahead (demo) (Curtis Knight? on guitar)
Everybody Knew but Me (demo)
If You Gonna Make a Fool of Somebody (demo) (possibly no Jimi?)
U.F.O. (demo)
Don't Accuse Me
*Fool for You Baby
*Gotta Have a New Dress
*Hornet's Nest
How Would You Feel
*Knock Yourself Out
*No Such Animal
Simon Says
*Station Break
Strange Things
Welcome Home
You Don't Want Me
*U.F.O.

After the formation of the Experience, further recordings took place in New York in July-August 1967. Likely two sessions took place during this period. On these tracks Jimi plays either guitar or bass, and it's thought that the tracks with Jimi on guitar were one session while those with Jimi on bass are from the other. The currently accepted dates for these sessions are 7/17/67 for the tracks with Jimi on fuzz bass, and 8/8/67 for the guitar tracks.

There are 6 tracks with Jimi on guitar that were released officially, plus two rehearsal takes of Gloomy Monday that have only appeared on bootlegs. In addition there is one other take of "Ballad of Jimi" with only acoustic guitar, that appears on an obscure French release, with the track subtitled "1966 version." A recording of "Ballad of Jimmy" was listed in the legal documents for the 1965-1966 recordings, but it was always assumed to be a mistake. Whether it's Jimi on guitar and whether this take is really from 1966 is uncertain, so it's listed here with the 1967 recordings until more information surfaces.

1967 Studio Recordings - Jimi on guitar

Ballad of Jimi
Gloomy Monday (incomplete 1st rehearsal take)
Gloomy Monday (2nd rehearsal take)
Gloomy Monday
Hush Now
Hush Now (incomplete alternate take)
Love Love
Happy Birthday (alternate version of Love Love with different vocals)

The remaining 4 tracks feature Jimi on fuzz bass. The first long jam listed here was chopped up and was usually presented as three separately titled songs with added vocals: Day Tripper, Future Trip, and Flashing.

Released by: Sony Legacy / Sundazed (USA) S323

Side 1 with vocals by Jocko Henderson and Jayne Mansfield; side 2 with vocals by Ricky Mason
H. RAY SHARPE, OWEN GRAY, ARETHA FRANKLIN, KING CURTIS, THE ATLANTIC SOUNDS

These songs were originally released on singles in 1966-1969, under the names of the above-listed artists.

Recorded in Atlantic Studios, NYC, 1/21/66 with Ray Sharpe (vocals) and the King Curtis Orchestra, Jimi plays guitar on one track, split into two parts:

[S351] Help Me (Get the Feeling) (1) Part I 2:30
[S352] Help Me (Get the Feeling) (1) Part II 1:57

The King Curtis Orchestra backing track (with Jimi's rhythm guitar part) was used on a cover version of "Help Me" by Own Gray. Gray recorded new vocals later in 1966 and added them to the existing backing track. The song is presented in one part, but is edited to run shorter (and is also mastered about 6% faster).

Help Me (2) 2:54

The same backing track was used by Aretha Franklin on her song "Save Me," but here some of the backing track parts were deleted and new parts recorded. Jimi's guitar was one of the casualties of the editing process, so he doesn't appear on this version.

Finally, King Curtis himself used the backing track for his song "Instant Groove." Again subjected to erasing and re-recording, this time the backing track does still retain Jimi's rhythm guitar part.

  Instant Groove (Help Me (3)) [mono] 2:21
  Instant Groove (Help Me (4)) [stereo]

A second song was recorded with the King Curtis Orchestra. Recorded in Atlantic Studios, NYC, 5/31/66 with The Atlantic Sounds and the King Curtis Orchestra, Jimi (perhaps) plays guitar on one track:

J. LONNIE YOUNGBLOOD, THE ICEMEN, JIMMY NORMAN, BILLY LAMONT, LENNY HOWARD, GEORGE SCOTT

Most of the material released on these albums does not involve Jimi at all. The songs that do contain Hendrix performances were recorded in an uncertain studio, probably Abtone Studios or Allegro Sound Studios, New York, NY, in early to mid 1966, with Lonnie Youngblood (sax, vo). Other tracks feature The Icemen or Jimmy Norman on vocals; these tracks were originally released as singles under their names. Several other artists also used backing tracks from these sessions for their own later releases. The other musicians are uncertain.

The first six 45RPM singles were released before Jimi died, and did not advertise his participation. All releases starting with the LP "Two Great Experiences Together" in 1971 mentioned him prominently, usually (but not always) also mentioning Youngblood. The other musicians were generally not acknowledged, although a few releases do so.

Since posthumous releases usually contain mixes of tracks by these artists, they are all grouped together in these listings.

The following is a list of tracks not involving Hendrix, and probably many do not involve Youngblood either. Many of these tracks are associated with Herman Hitson (g) and Lee Moses (g). Timings vary slightly from release to release due to slightly different mastering speeds.

These can be grouped into three categories. The first consists of essentially the tracks released on "Moods"; these are characterized by a resonant guitar sound, almost a fuzz guitar. Most of these also appear to have been tampered with. See Niko's site (http://www.earlyhendrix.com) for a much more thorough coverage of all of these tracks.

The final category are miscellaneous tracks that don't seem to fit with the groups listed above. "Be My Baby" and "Edda Mae" both have substantial hum; "Edda Mae" is a re-work of the Ohio Players track "Find Someone to Love." with added guitar overdubs. "Find Someone" and "Night Life" have similar guitar sound. "Gangster of Love" is parts 1 and 2 of the Jimmy Norman single (Josie 994) presented as one track. "Young Generation" has vocals by Billy Lamont.

COMPILATIONS
The mass of Curtis Knight and Lonnie Youngblood releases looks small compared to the hundreds of compilation releases that have appeared over the years. Most of these were issued by Polydor, in many different countries: an endless stream of recycled material. The following abbreviated list is certainly not complete, but more are added whenever I come across them.

Since I own very few of these, version and mix of each song are not identified in most cases; only song titles are given. Releases are listed roughly in order of release date.

VOODOO CHILE (Karussell Gold Serie (W. Ger) 2499 012)
1. Voodoo Chile, Foxy Lady, Manic Depression, Little Miss Strange, Love or Confusion, I Don't Live Today
2. Crosstown Traffic, May This Be Love, Fire, Third Stone from the Sun, Remember, Are You Experienced

MIDNIGHT LIGHTNING MIXES

Recorded: 4/69 - 7/70

Midnight Lightning (28) 5:14 Machine Gun (39) 7:28
Blue Suede Shoes (7) 3:47 Trash Man / Midnight (6) 3:26
Jam Back at the House (15) 4:19 Machine Gun (40) [excerpt] 1:19
Gypsy Boy (5) 3:35 Midnight Lightning (29) [vocal loop] 0:23

Mono mixes. No '74 overdubs on this material, although the songs are edited and sections are re-ordered, and some sections are repeated. Individual tracks from different parts of a song are moved back and forth. Also, some parts have been removed, like congas or Larry's guitar. These mixes are probably one of the earliest steps in the alteration process.

Studio recordings:
1: Electric Lady, 7/14/70, with Billy Cox (b), Mitch Mitchell (d), and Juma Sultan (congas); edited but without overdubs
2: Record Plant, 1/23/70, with Billy Cox (b), Buddy Miles (d), and Don (harmonica); edited but without overdubs
3: Hit Factory, 8/28/69, with Billy Cox (b), Mitch Mitchell (d), Juma Sultan (bongos), and Juma Sultan? (temple block); edited but no overdubs
